Lean-ing on my breast,<sup>v</sup> With your eyes of a-zure! Gaz-ing at the Now at close of day<sup>v</sup> Boss and dear old Brin-dle<sup>v</sup> Slow-ly homeward
With your brow of light<sup>v</sup> Look-ing like an an-gel! In the mis-ty

West,<sup>v</sup> Where the sun-set tint-ing! Soft and clear<sup>v</sup> and bright,<sup>v</sup> stray,<sup>v</sup> Up from primrose pas-tures<sup>v</sup> Thro' a haw-thorn lane<sup>v</sup> night<sup>v</sup> Say by by to Bos-sie<sup>v</sup> Brin-dle 'neath the trees<sup>v</sup>

Whis-pers in its splen - dor<sup>v</sup> Of the com - ing night.<sup>v</sup>
 With a mel - low low - ing<sup>v</sup> Come the brown eyed twaine.<sup>v</sup>
 Waft a kiss,<sup>v</sup> my dar - ling,<sup>v</sup> To the birds and bees,<sup>v</sup>

Do you see the shad - ows<sup>v</sup> Fall - ing on the sheaves?<sup>v</sup>
 Do you see them ba - - by,<sup>v</sup> Mid the shad-ows deep?<sup>v</sup>
 Good-night<sup>v</sup> to the flow - ers<sup>v</sup> And the sun - lit sheaves,<sup>v</sup>

Do you hear the pig - - eons<sup>v</sup> Coo - ing round the eaves?<sup>v</sup>
 They would greet you, ba - - by,<sup>v</sup> Ere they go to sleep.<sup>v</sup>
 And your lit - tle pig - - eons! Coo - ing round the eaves.<sup>v</sup>

ritard. - -

All their call at sun-set, Ba-by<sup>v</sup> Ba-by is for you<sup>v</sup> for you.—
 And their call at sun-set, Ba-by<sup>v</sup> Ba-by is for you<sup>v</sup> for you.—
 All their call at night time, Ba-by<sup>v</sup> Ba-by is for you<sup>v</sup> for you.—
